HEADMISTRESS' ADDRESS

The success of a society depends upon the character of its citizens. Good citizens and those who know and live up to their duties, exercise such virtues as responsibility, loyalty, and self-discipline. Graduates of 2007, it has been the aim of Sacred Heart to help prepare you for this role.

For each of you much has changed since you entered the Penfield doors back in 2002. The time has come for you to leave the safety and security of the known and embark upon a journey which will take you along new pathways. What you have been taught about duty, getting on with the task, and doing good works will serve you well as you navigate through life.

My wish for the Class of 2007 is that you will take care to choose carefully and that you will avoid shortcuts. Remember that the true worth of your life's journey is not about where you arrive, but who you come to be along the way.

Far away in the sunshine are your highest aspirations. You may not reach all of them, but you can look up and see their beauty. Believe in them, and try to follow where they lead. May God bless you all!

Elaine Brooks
Headmistress

ADMINISTRATION

Dear Graduates of 2007,

Over the last five years, you have formed and nurtured friendships, discovered the strength of your individual talents, and learned to accept both success and failure with grace and dignity. You have no doubt learned that information is not knowledge and that knowledge without wisdom is pointless. As you embark on the next great adventure, may you always find time to reflect; and may you always make choices that inspire you to do and be your best.

- Jean Filipovich, Assistant Headmistress

Victor Hugo once said "There is nothing like a dream to create the future." Five years ago this could have easily applied to each of you as you entered the Dr. Penfield doors for the first time. Now, as you exit these doors to further your education, you have fulfilled a portion of your dream and now is the time to create your future. Good luck to the Class of 2007 and best of wishes in your future endeavors.

- Peter Kousik, Director of Studies

Dearest Graduates,

Wasn't it just yesterday that we shared our first G.I. and I told you that you were the Class of 2007. Five years seemed such a long way off. It has finally arrived and you are ready to leave. You will go in many different directions and face exciting challenges. Take all that you have learned and make wise choices. Enjoy your life! Find your passions! Change your world! To quote Dr. Seuss "Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting, so... get on your way."

Love,

Rosanne Del Torto, Director of Students

As Louisa May Alcott wrote, "Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead."

As you chart your course, your aspirations may change -- some will fall by the wayside, others will remain steadfast, and still others will be transformed. As you leave the City House, let the winds catch in your sails. Explore, discover, and dance upon the high seas. Remember Sacred Heart as your beacon in life's voyage, and enjoy safe passage.

- Colleen Bronson, Director of Advancement and Alumnae Affairs

Dear Graduating Class of 2007,

The time you have spent together during the past five years at The Sacred Heart School of Montreal will truly be a defining moment in your lives. Not only will you remember all the wonderful memories you have shared, but also the strong friendships you have built and the teachers you have learned from. You have now built a strong foundation to continue onto your next journey. The Sacred Heart family will always be there to welcome you with open arms. Good Luck!

- Harry Kalanian, Director of Finance & Facilities

A Preview of Sacred's 2006-2007 School Year

It was quite the year! One to be mostly remembered for Mr. Griffin's spontaneous appearances, some pretty awesome musical performances (let us not forget Pas Chic Chic), and yes A LOT of work!

EDITOR'S PAGE

Once upon a time, lived two young fair ladies, who were cast upon the magically self-indulgent, high's and low's of yearbook world. As time went on they only learned to appreciate the experience more and more. To the graduating class in 20 years from now, we hope you pick up your book and remember who was responsible for capturing your last year at Sacred.

Miss Lessey :

Davina : My complete opposite, but you made each day special.

Mel: My sis and most def fave alligata. Love you.

Thanks for putting up with us girls, keeping us on track and for the support time and patience.

-much love, Miss Electric Shock

Music is an escape from the hurried pace of the world around us whether it's playing an instrument or singing or merely listening, music is a way to express yourself, like poetry.

"Music is a way to be creative and express your emotions. To me, music means a solution to any problem and a source of relaxation."

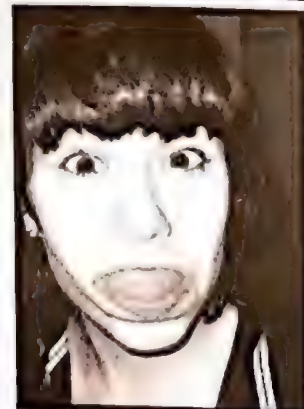

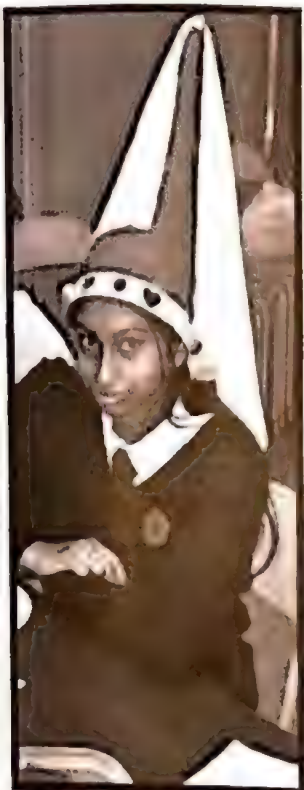

"Music calms and relaxes me. Sometimes it makes me think, other times, it makes me dance. It's a center of a feeling. To hear music that fits your heart is like being brushed by beauty and love."

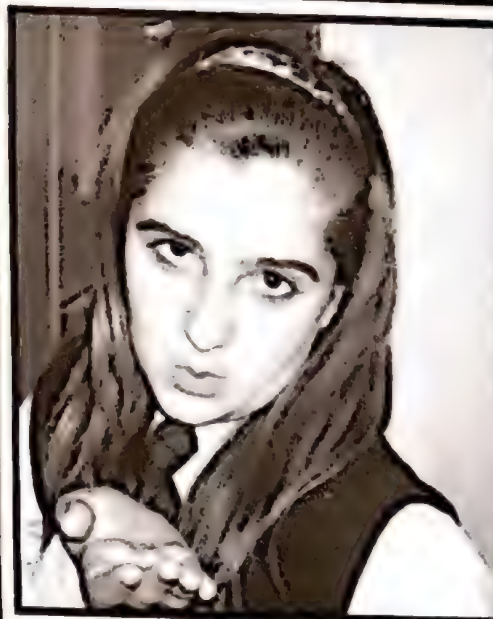

Music is an art of expressing your emotions or inside feelings. When people write songs, the lyrics and the tempo really have a significance to their mood. I love music because, throughout my life, my family has been dedicated to music and I love trying out different instruments and singing along to my favourite songs.

Thanks Mom, Dad, Matt and David. L.H. Forever

Valérie Bisailon

"I keep thinking times will never change. Keep on thinking things will always be the same. When we leave this year we won't be coming back. We'll move on and we won't slow down. And these memories will be playing like a film without sound."

Johanna Bitharas

What a five year ride it's been! Shout out to my crew: AM,ALP,LM,VL,CM,MA,DM,AM, to name a few: vballers: gold! LD: finally! Stratford: lots of memories; band: goodtimes; Mom, Dad, James, Tommy: love you all so much! "Dance Like No One's Watching" Congrats Grads '07 We Did It!!

Catherine Brunelle

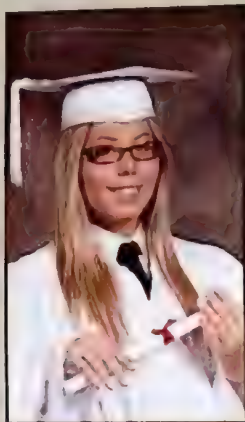

To my Sacred lovers, it's hard to think we're done. I'll always remember the good times- train buddies for life- cucumbers I love you like crazy- grandpapi sahib- the tedsters- Party on the bus. Who knows how I'll survive next year without you! PEACE LOVERS.

Valedictory Address by Jessica Covino

Picture yourself in this situation. You are alone at the movie theatre. You are waiting in line to buy a movie ticket, one you have heard good reviews about but you wanted to check out for yourself. Your palms are so sweaty that your ten dollar bill is sticking to it because honestly you don't know what to expect. It's kind of an adventure really. You will buy your ticket. The guy will rip it and direct you to your room. You don't know who you are going to sit next to or even if you will talk to that person. Nevertheless, you do know that there will be scenes that you will look back on with joy and, at times, sadness. But it is a chance you are willing to take. Sound familiar? Let's rewind back to September 3, 2002. We might not have realized it then but we were all standing in line for our tickets, wondering where we would fit in. Popular girl? Sporty chick? Nerd? Teacher's pet? Loner? But it wasn't just another teen movie. It was the Sacred Heart School of Montreal's, the future, 2007 graduating class. Soon we would come to realize that there were no stereotypical characters like the Plastics. (Without being allowed to wear nail polish or lip gloss, we were really not like the Plastics.) It was the start of a family.

All of us sitting in that dark room were getting ready to take part in a comedy as well as a drama (sometimes more that we would have liked). The movie started off slowly, taking time and demanding courage. But somehow, I am really not quite sure when, we just let ourselves go. Together, we laughed at Trolol's outgoing personality and crazy dances. How can we forget our friend Borat and Francesca's imitation of him? By the end we had forged friendships that will hopefully last forever. We have shared so much. We witnessed each other's successes and failures, and when we were having a bad day, hair or otherwise, we found comfort in each others embraces. I have never met a group of girls so different and yet so willing to put those differences aside the minute they walked through those doors. Thank you girls, the grads of '07 for making these past five years... "very nice".

Also, thank you Sacred Heart. Though there were times when at one point or another, we wished we were elsewhere, where we did not have to wear doc martins or a tie or have to follow so many rules, we stuck through it and I'm glad. Sacred Heart, you have provided us with a safe environment that allowed us to mature into strong, independent, pretty women. You supplied the setting that really became our second home. Some of us were here as early as 7:00 a.m. and as late as 6:00 p.m. Another big thank you goes to the teachers. You have proved to be the directors. Whenever we needed help with homework or just needed advice, we knew we could count on your direction. You have well prepared us to enter the world. Let's not forget our parents who, without their support we would not be sitting here right now.

As the end is nearing, we cannot help but feel that it is a bittersweet moment. Although we are looking forward to the sequel, we will miss all the episodes that went into making the first one a hit. As much as our faces will haunt these walls, all the memories that were made within these walls will haunt us. Those memories most likely include the girl sitting on either sides of you or a few rows back or ahead. Now that the time is approaching when we will hang up our uniforms, I know that you girls will be able to deal with anything that is thrown your way. Whenever you need help just send a bat signal and we will come running. The grads of 2007, you have all that it takes to make your own happily ever after.

So, after five years, far after the tickets have been ripped, I am proud to say that I am standing in front of you with the nerves that turned to laughter and the people that went from strangers to friends. We had front row seats to all the scenes, the ones where life long memories were made. But I write you all to take this moment in. This is it; we have reached the final scene. It is the one in the movie that makes you cry, laugh or both. So go ahead cry, laugh, but most of all remember this was it, the graduating class of 2007. Soon the credits will roll. So Sacred Heart, consider this our thank you, our standing ovation to you. Because in the end it was all worth it.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

GRADS OF 2007

 GRADS OF 2007

It's been a whirlwind of five years, with an innumerable amount of ups and downs! Who would have ever thought though that the end has finally come! Shocker, eh?!? Some of us met and have become amazing friends through Sacred, and some of us have known each other our entire lives. So here is an ode to the ups, the downs, the friendships and memories shared together as the graduating class of 2007!

“You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. You are the guy who'll decide where to go.”

-Dr Seuss

• Peace Love & Sacred

Most likely to ...

Gabrielle A.: Most likely to say "what?" at her own wedding because she doesn't understand the vows.

Mélanie A.: Most likely to stalk a man fifteen years older than her all the way to France, and end up marrying him.

Allyssa A.: Most likely to steal Taylor Hanson's wife's identity just so she could get a V.I.P pass to his life.

Michelle A.: Most likely to be a biologist.

Lara A.: Most likely to be a spokesperson for lactose-intolerant people.

Valérie B.: Most likely to trip over a cone.

Johanna B.: Most likely to live a fabulous life as a supermodel, be rich, and marry a hot hockey player.

Catherine B.: Most likely to name her first dog Jack and her second dog Daniel.

Olivia C.: Most likely to live the O.C life and spend all of her free time watching MTV.

Jessica Ca.: Most likely to inject herself with cat genes and become history's cutest super hero.

Kirsten C.: Most likely to become a professional skier and bruise every part of her body...twice.

Christina C.: Most likely to marry a Greek heir, max out his credit card and be mad she can't get the Channel glasses she wants.

Madelyn C.: Most likely to skip cegep in order to spend a whole two years playing Sims.

Jessica Co.: Most likely to trip down the aisle and laugh at the groom.

Krystin D.: Most likely to move back to R.D.P., have ten children and enter all of them in beauty pageants.

Giuseppina D.: Most likely to trip on her wedding dress, and walk out because her fiancé didn't come help her.

Jessica D.: Most likely to be too lazy to write a "most likely to..."

Amanda D.: Most likely to get married to a sexy man, have ten kids, take care very good of them and name them Ying, Pong and Chang.

Melissa D.: Most likely to sneak out of a maximum security holding cell.

Caitlin D.: Most likely to be saved by Jesus and become a nun.

Alexandra D.: Most likely to stroll down fifth avenue, coffee and danish in hand staring into the window at Tiffany's at 6:00am ..with Marie Mercedes G.: Most likely to become Ms. Del Torto.

Alana G.: Most likely to have a juicy couture wedding dress.

Elizabeth H.: Most likely to take over the candle business, marry a beautiful Greek boy, and max out Yianni&Kiki's visa.

Ariana H.: Most likely to be the next Asian gangsta.

Vanessa J-R.: Most likely to become Chief Explosive Engineer for secret services because she is bored.

Stéphanie K.: Most likely to burst someone's eardrum while "whispering".

Gillian K.: Most likely to become a born-again Christian.

Chloé L.: Most likely to be late to her own wedding.

Andrea L.D.:Most likely to become a comedian...NOT!!

Tanya L.:Most likely to bring a book to her funeral, then get up and dance.

Sophia L.:Most likely to star in the next "Buns of Steel" video...which will, of course, be filmed by Emily Snell.

Melissa L.:Most likely to get drunk off of flavoured water claiming it was a wine cooler.

Davina L.:Most likely to go bald after all those years of hair twirling!

Viviane L.:Most likely to pass out from eating too much.

Grace M.:Most likely to quit her job as the Dread Pirate Zero and elope, but only to confuse everyone who knows her.

Cynthia M.:Most likely to spend her whole life smiling and only shedding a tear when she realizes her face is frozen that way.

Daniela M.:Most likely to sleep her way through school and still manage to become the best marine biologist business woman, and all her other dreams she had.

Francesca M.:Most likely to die of laughter at someone's funeral.

Amanda M.:Most likely to become a forensic anthropologist and marry a James Marsters look-a-like.

Sabrina M.:Most likely to become a world famous photographer then quit to perfect her myspace pose.

Lisa M.:Most likely to sleep through all her classes in cegep yet still manage to get 90% but give up and become a saxophone playing hobo.

Tian M.:Most likely to become the next Christina Yang.

Marie M.:Most likely to stroll down the Champs-Élysées with une baguette et un espresso in hand, staring into the window of the Christian Louboutin boutique...with Alex!

Alexandra M.:Most likely to be poor but make her money by solving people's math problems.

Daniela M.:Most likely to move to Italy and become a rockstar.

Gloria N.:Most likely to become obese by the age of twenty-five from eating Nutella and watching Passions all day.

Mai N.:Most likely to spend the rest of her life looking for gold, high heel, peep toe shoes.

Cara O.:Most likely to overdose on imaginary medication for her imaginary illnesses.

Valentine O.:Most likely to move out of North America.

Vanessa P.:Most likely to win Miss Universe and fall flat on her face when going to accept her award.

Julia P.:Most likely to go beyond the magical galaxy with her mind while trying to crump.

Amanda L.P.:Most likely to beat someone up in Wal-Mart because they took the last Carrie Underwood CD.

Josie P.:Most likely hand out Purl bottles and a Grease DVD as wedding favors.

Sonia P.:Most likely to own all the McDonalds, live for the rest of her life in her jogging pants and never come out of her house.

Kristina R.:Most likely to move to Club Med, marry G.O. and become the first female head chief.

Gersande R.:Most likely to FLEE!

Stephania R.:Most likely to live in the Bahamas, inherit a billion dollar empire, own the world and shop until she literally drops while singing "Ain't nothin' but a G thang baby, it's a G thang".

Emily S.:Most likely to invent an allergy medication called "If it doesn't kill you, it'll make you stronger", so that she can eat her Nutella in peace with Sophia.

Elizabeth S.:Most likely to publish her own dictionary.

Hillary T.:Most likely to move to Venezuela, marry a man shorter than her, and name her baby Gerardo Jorge.

Sheena T.:Most likely to drown in her own spit!

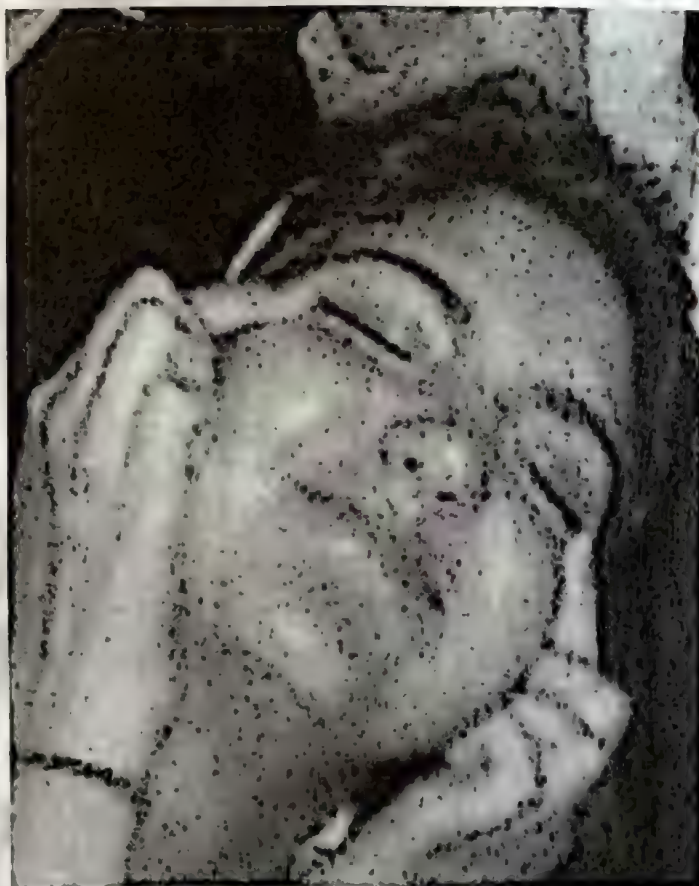

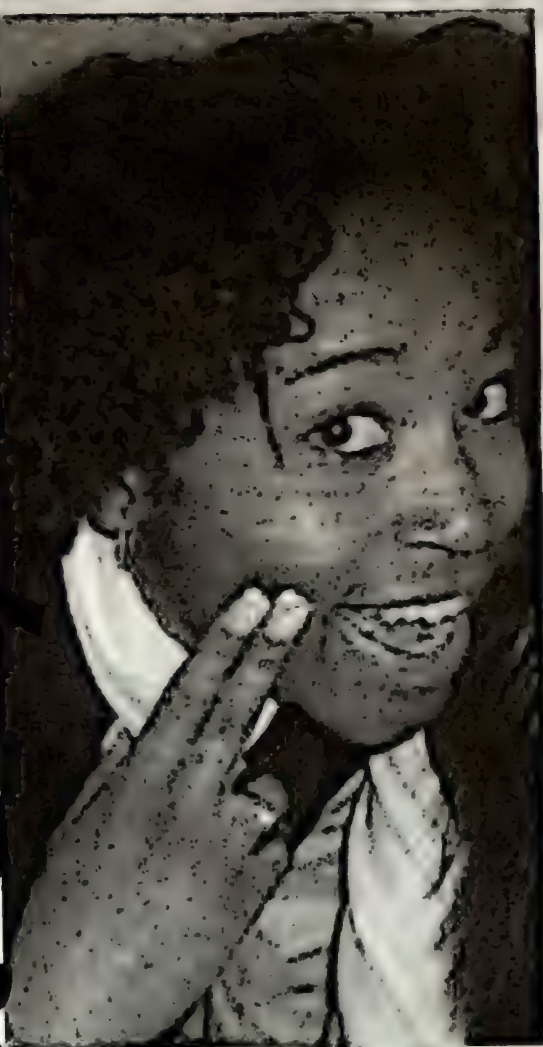

Alexandra T.:Most likely to go to jail...and eat her way out.

Lauren V.:Most likely to live Britney Spears' life; marry, have kids, divorce, check into rehab, and then shave her head.

Kia W.-M.:Most likely to take over Ms. Del Torto's job when she retires.

Carissa W.:Most likely to be the next Fung or Miller.

A Special Note from your Editors:

Secondary 1- Get set for a whirl wind of 4 years ahead!

Secondary II- Don't forget what really matters, especially since you are soon to be seniors!

Secondary III- Be true; be you!

Secondary IV- The graduating class of 2008! Enjoy it because these are the last times you will spend together at Sacred!

Everybody could use a helping hand.

Special thanks to all who helped us this year.

ns Class of '07

Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2007!

▲ Bill C-288 was presented and passed in February and requires the minority Conservative government to respect Canada's Kyoto commitments. Canadian environmentalist, author and broadcaster David Suzuki stated there was no need for opposition politicians to force the issue, as Canada was bound, as an international signatory, to abide by Kyoto

▲ YouTube, the Web video powerhouse that made "macaca" a household word, is the media story of the year and a widely popular form of home entertainment.

Volunteers!

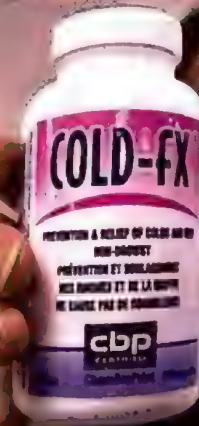

▲ Canadians aged 15-24 are seeking out volunteer opportunities in record numbers. For many young people, volunteering not only allows them to build their skills as an important link to the job market, but offers the opportunity to make a difference in shaping a better world.

► The rise in obesity among young people is linked to an increase in adolescent cases of type 2 "adult onset" diabetes and associated health problems.

Diabetes on the rise

► Edmonton-based CV Technologies received a boost when the FDA approved the sale of Cold-fx in the United States.

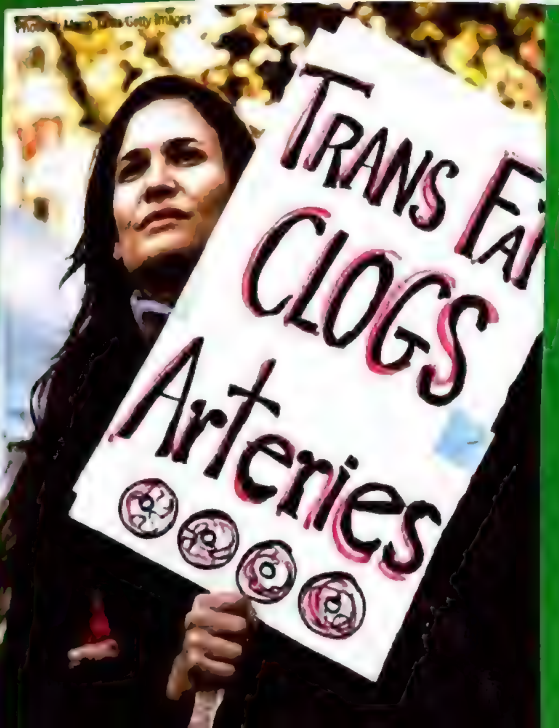

{Hearing loss}

► A marked increase in hearing loss among young people is attributed to the use of ear buds in popular MP3 players like the iPod.

{Trans fats}

► Hoteliers join a growing number of fast food chains that are eliminating trans fats from the cooking oils they use. The Calgary Health Region has begun the process of developing a plan similar to that of the recent New York City Board of Health vote on banning trans fats in New York restaurants.

{Entertainment}

- ◀ Sony releases its seventh generation PlayStation, known as "PS3". The basic console has a 20 GB hard drive; the premium version comes with 60 GB.

New game systems

My favourite video games:

- ◀ Nintendo releases Wii, its newest video game console, which features a wireless remote that can detect motion and rotation in three dimensions.

Nintendo Wii

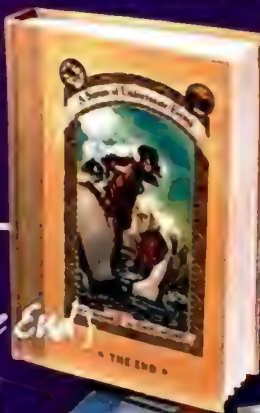

- ◀ Madden NFL 07 and a barrage of end-of-the-year action games capture the attention of gamers, capitalizing on a major emphasis on online gaming.

{Popular games}

TV now!

- ◀ The differences between your television and your computer continue to blur now that network TV programs are available online from services like abc.com.

- ◀ The unfortunate adventures of the Baudelaire orphans come to an end with the publication of The End by Lemmon Snicket.
- ◀ The classic board game, Monopoly, gets a 21st century makeover. The "Here & Now" edition features updated tokens, current market prices and 22 new properties.

- ▼ Perky Food Network star and best-selling cookbook author Rachael Ray gets her own syndicated talk show, produced by Oprah Winfrey's production company.

The essential tunic and leggings

▶ Mid-calf and ankle-length leggings, last seen in the trendy 1980s, return to the spotlight. Fashion-conscious girls wear them under minis, dresses and tunics

▶ Pointy toes and high heels are out. The feminine, flirty ballerina flat goes with everything from short skirts to long leggings and super-skinny jeans

Favourite brands:

{Diesel}

▶ Colourful comfortable Crocs—made from a buoyant, lightweight, odor-resistant material that molds to the wearer's foot—are the shoe of the year

© 2007 Jostens, Inc.

▶ Couture designers like Dolce & Gabbana and luxury brands like Swarovski, the Swiss crystal maker, transform boring cell phones into the year's must-have bling

Bling bling

▶ Rapper fashion comes to the suburbs as snap-on grills add a flash of diamonds and gold or platinum to your pearly whites.

▶ Tiny plaid mini skirts look private-school cool. Meanwhile, Marc Jacobs is sending plaid tops down the runway and fashion icons sport Burberry plaids

© 2007 Jostens, Inc.

▶ Nearly 31 percent of teens, or 7.6 million, are consuming energy drinks that contain up to four times the amount of caffeine than is in a can of Coke.

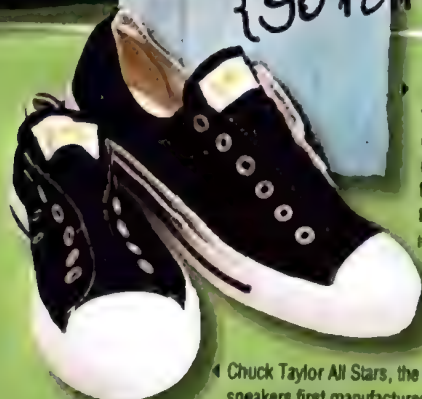

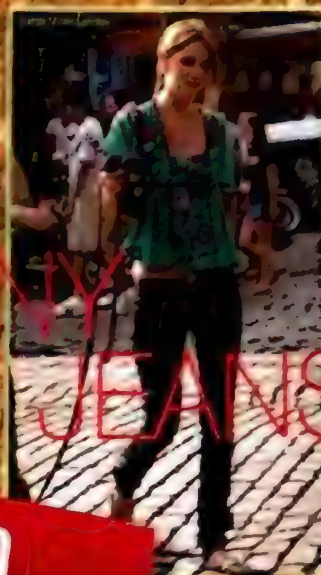

Energy drinks

▶ The year's to-die-for, must-have-at-any-price jeans are dark, slim, distressed denims from Diesel, the Italian label that inspires a cult-like devotion among its customers

Teens are raiding their parents' closets, as well as retailers like Urban Outfitters and American Eagle, for vintage rock and pop culture T's.
